Clothing Drive for Lincoln Train Is Big Success

More Than 1000 Pounds
Collected in Antioch
Last Saturday

Antioch and vicinity responded to the Abraham Lincoln Friendship train clothing collection to the extent of more than 1,000 pounds—enough to fill a two ton truck.

Herman Holbek, chairman of the drive, said that the community made a wonderful response and the committee is highly pleased.

The garments and bed clothing were bundled over the week and are being trucked to Chicago today for loading aboard the train which will arrive in Chicago from Lincoln, Neb., on Saturday and leave for the east coast in time for transfer to a boat sailing on Feb. 22 or soon after.

Five trucks made the rounds in Antioch Saturday with Boy Scouts going from door to door in picking up whatever was offered.

"The clothing was all good material," said Holbek, who described it as being serviceable and in good condition.

The trucks were provided gratis by local firms.

The Rev. Mr. G. Richard Tuttle said that he visited the headquarters of the church organizations sponsoring the drive and he was told that even after this train is dispatched there will be additional shipments and that persons who do not contribute now can do so at any time later. Mr. Tuttle said he thought the clothing might still be brought to the local churches.

A small truck load of clothing was collected by Richard Seyforth in the Channel Lake area showing a good response to the appeal in that neighborhood.

Many Antioch township families contributed cash to help purchase the car load of evaporated milk which Lake county will contribute to the Friendship train.

The gift will be made at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in a ceremony at Grayslake. It represents gifts from the county totalling approximately $5,000 just about twice the amount the committee started out to raise. Farm Bureau officials, schools, churches, and business men co-operated in the drive which lasted only 10 days.

The ceremony accompanying the gift will take place as a car is being loaded at the Soo line siding in Grayslake. The Grayslake school band will play and talks will be given by E. E. Elsbury, chairman and master of ceremonies; R. J. Dwyer, treasurer and representative of the Libertyville Chamber of Commerce; Gilbert Clem, agriculture instructor at Warren Township High school, representing the schools; L. H. Messersmith pastor of the Millburn community church, representing the churches; Ray T. Nicholas, farm adviser, representing the extension division of the College of Agriculture; George R. Rinehart, representing the newspapers; and a 4-H youth yet to be selected, to represent the younger people. Every body is invited to attend.

Mr. Elsbury will present the car to Mr. Messersmith who will represent the churches who have the responsibility of distributing the food. Banners on the car will state: "From the People of Lake County to the People of Europe and Asia."

Richard Champlin Heads Illinois Mink Breeders

Richard Champlin of Edwards road was elected president of the Illinois Mink Breeders Association at the annual election and banquet held Feb. 5, at Crystal Lake.

It was nine years ago that "Dick" Champlin and family, and a small herd of mink, moved to this locality from Batavia, Ill. They settled on the old Fagen Homestead and have constantly improved and built until today the Ironquins Fur Farm is known to many.

Dick has had two set-backs in health this past year but we are sure he will give his new office all the diligence and enthusiasm that he has heretofore shown in his mink business.

Graders Win at Grayslake
The seventh and eighth grade teams of the Antioch school won from Grayslake there in basketball Tuesday afternoon by decisive scores. The girls went along in the school bus and formed a cheering section.

School Closed Today
Antioch schools were closed today because of the holiday—the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln.

Fox Lake Woman Takes Own Life by Hanging

Mrs. Gallewaert, 70, of Indian Point, Fox Lake, ended her life at her home Monday night.

The investigation of Coroner Garfield Leaf revealed that the body was found about 5 a. m. Tuesday in the bath room, Mrs. Gallewaert during a period of mental derangement having used her dress belt in making a noose by which she suspended herself to a hook above the bathroom stool.

The inquest was held Tuesday afternoon at the Strang funeral home and the body was taken by her husband, Rene Gallewaert, retired laundry man, to Chicago for burial. The couple had lived in the Fox Lake region for the last 15 years.

Antioch Beats Wauconda 30-29 in Last Second; Papposes Win 43-22

Grayslake Here Next Week;
We Play Lake Forest
In Sectional

Antioch High won its last home conference game of the season from Wauconda last night 30 to 29.

A foul goal by Buchta, Antioch center, with two seconds to play broke a 29-20 tie, and gave the Sequoits their victory after the game had been evened up a few seconds before on Bliss's foul for Wauconda.

Wauconda led until the final quarter. At the first quarter the score was 10 to 9, at the half 19 to 13, and at the end of the third quarter 26 to 23 in favor of the visitors. The Sequoits edging up all the time made a final rally and took the lead.

The Papposes won from Wauconda J.V.'s 43 to 22.

The Sequoits will have to admit that Bensenville has the better team. After the beating last Friday night that the Cook county team administered Antioch to the tune of 49 to 33 there, the local boys are ready to declare that Bensenville has the best team in the league.

The Papposes fared the same fate, losing to Bensenville Jayvees 35 to 49.

The losses did not make a change in the standing of either teams in the Northwest conference for Grant and Palatine lost. The varsity is still tied with Grant for fifth place with four victories and seven losses, and the Freshmen-Sophomore team is tied with Palatine for fourth place.

On the varsity scores were Barrington 38, Palatine 30; Northbrook 44; Grant 35; Elia 33; Wauconda 32.

Antioch will play at Northbrook Friday evening and will finish the season with an afternoon game here Tuesday with Grayslake.

In the district tournament Antioch is scheduled to meet Lake Forest in the first game. Barrington will play Warren; Elia will oppose Northbrook and the host, Wauconda, will play Grayslake. Grant drew a bye.

The time of the game is not yet known, but the tourney will be during the week of Feb. 27.

Lake Villa Approves $64,000 Bond Issue For Sewage System

Lake Villa voted a $64,000 bond issue Tuesday to pay the greater part of the cost of a new sewage disposal system.

Two hundred and one votes were cast with 164 favoring, 18 opposing and 19 ballots being spoiled. The spoiled ballots indicated most of these who cast them had favored the proposition.

The board met this week in canvassing the vote and will prepare for the bond issue at its regular meeting the first Monday in March.

The $64,000 is the bond limit of the village. This will not be enough to pay for the construction of the sewage system so a tapping fee of $150 will be charged each resident in obtaining $11,000 more.

A suit is now pending in which the state is seeking penalties for the village's failure to disconnect its sewer at Deep lake where pollution was caused.

The overwhelming majority approving the plan was a surprise to many who had expected the results to be close.

Dine on Venison
Members of the Antioch fire department enjoyed a venison stew at their meeting Tuesday evening which was mostly social. The venison was donated by Bud Holt.

Two Tragic Fires Result in Death for Six in County

3 Small Children Die at Rd.
Lake Friday; 3 Die
at Slocum Lake

Two fires, both started by improper use of gasoline or kerosene, were responsible for the tragic death of six persons in the county during the past week.

The first occurred at Round Lake beach last Friday evening in the basement of the Earl Jones home. A birthday party for small, 6-year-old Doris Jones had been in progress and Mr. and Mrs. Jones had left home to take some of the guests to their homes. While they were gone Earl, Jr., poured gasoline on the fire in a small heating stove in the basement. The resulting explosion and fire was so sudden that three of the Jones children, Doris, 6, Victoria 2, and Florence, 14, were trapped in the basement and died in the flames, despite efforts by persons attracted by the blaze to rescue them. Four other children of the family were burned. Two children who were in the upper story of the house were uninjured when they jumped to safety.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Round Lake for the victims and burial was in Fort Hill cemetery, Round Lake.

A second disastrous fire occurred Wednesday evening at Slocum Lake, near Wauconda, when Ervin Castleberry, 36, his wife, Nora, 32, and their daughter, Darlene Etinger 5, died in the flames.

It is believed that Castleberry had used kerosene or gasoline to help start a fire in a heating stove, as it is reported that this was his custom, and also an explosion accompanied the starting of the fire.

The bodies were found near the door, and it is believed that the suddenness of the fire prevented them from getting to safety.

Local Troop Observes Boy Scout Week and Will Play at Banquet

Thirty-eighth Anniversary
Of National Group is Celebrated

The Antioch troop of Boy Scouts held their "Housewarming" Wednesday evening in observance of the thirty-eighth birthday anniversary of scouting in America.

They witnessed Camp movies. Scout week is being observed throughout the Northwest district of the North Shore Area.

Churches throughout the district paid tribute to scouting on Scout Sunday. Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in uniform attended church in recognition of the importance of religious training in the life of the American boy.

Tuesday evening, Boy Scouts of Troop 77 at Mundelein were hosts to Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies and their parents at a "Housewarming". Movies of Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan were shown as part of the program.

Lake Villa Boy Scouts Troop 84 will cook dinner for their parents this Thursday evening. Motion pictures of the Troops Camp last summer will be shown and plans for a trip to the Great Smokies for next summer will be discussed.

Boy Scouts of Troop 80 and Cub Scouts of Pack 78 at Gages Lake will have their "Housewarming" on Friday evening. Movies of Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan will be shown and advancement awards will be made.

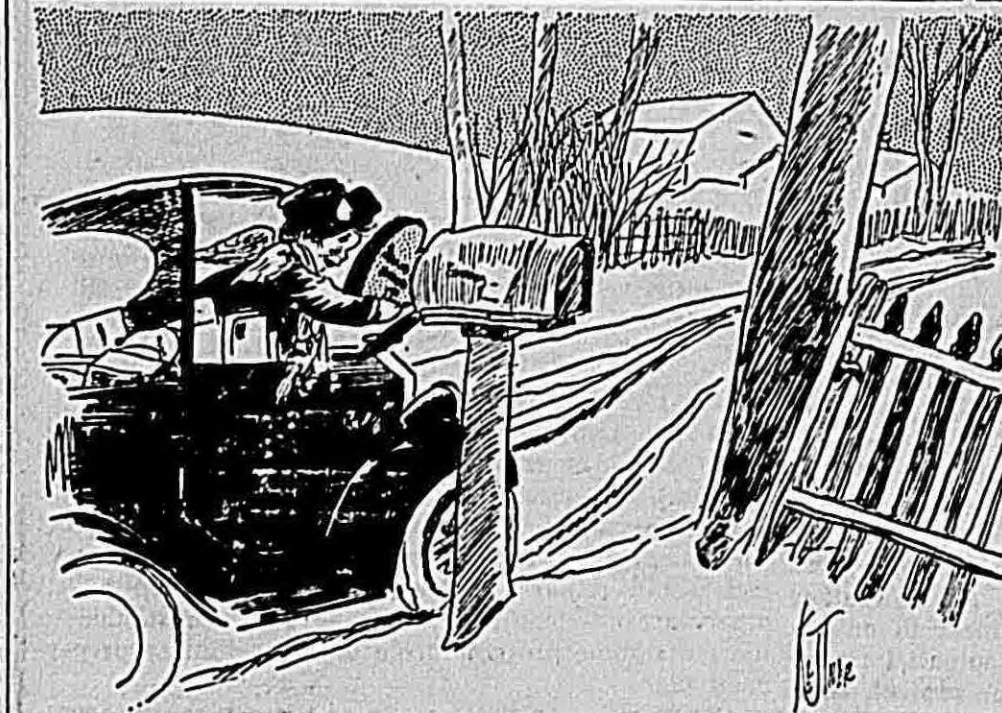

Saturday and Sunday Northwest District Scoutmasters, Assistants and Committeemen will meet at Camp Oak Arroyo for the outdoor session of the Scout Leaders Training Course.

Scout Week observances will be climaxed at the Council Scout Leaders Appreciation dinner to be held at New Trier High school at Winnetka on Tuesday, Feb. 17. The Antioch Boy Scout orchestra will provide dinner music. More than 100 Scout Leaders and Scout Parents are expected to represent the Northwest District at this affair.

John J. Noel of Mundelein is chairman of the Appreciation Dinner Attendance Committee.

Couple Rescued from Death by Asphyxiation In Snowbound Auto

Jim Morton and Geraldine Schaefer Revived by Rescue Squad

James Morton, 23, Antioch, and Geraldine Schroder Schaefer, 20, of Channel Lake might not have been alive today had it not been for Robert Simons, 16, of Channel Lake and Elmer Hunter, local garage owner, who went to their rescue.

Simons responded to their call for aid when their car stuck in a snow bank at Prospect ave., in the Channel Lake Bluff subdivision early Sunday morning. The couple attracted his attention by flashing the lights of the car and sounding the car horn. He agreed to call the Hunter garage for help.

He nor they were aware that carbon monoxide fumes were in the car and the sudden cold air that entered the car just before he left had the effect of shocking them to unconsciousness.

Hunter found them unconscious when he arrived with his tow car and immediately called the Antioch Rescue squad. Morton was already bleeding at the nose and the pupils of his eyes had dilated.

Three tanks of oxygen and an hours work revived the two and they were then brought to the office of Dr. Irving Breakstone for additional treatment for the gas poisoning and for exposure treatment. The rescue squad was credited with doing nice work in reviving the couple and especially Morton who was nearly dead.

Hunter said he debated for some time whether he would answer the call because the lateness of the hour and his fatigue from a hard day's work. Simons had gone to bed.

To Reorganize County Rural Chorus Tuesday At Grayslake Meeting

The Lake County Rural chorus will be re-organized at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 17, at the Farm Bureau hall in Grayslake.

This active choral group was disbanded during the war because of gas rationing. Because of the desire for reorganization the meeting next week has been planned.

The group will be part of the Illinois Rural chorus which will sing at the Chicago and Land Music festival next August. It will also plan to prepare for a number of local programs.

Membership is open to all men and women in the county who like to sing. Mrs. Homer Havermale, activities chairman of the Lake County Home Bureau, will be in charge of the chorus. It will be sponsored by both the Lake County Farm and Home Bureaus, with Mr. Ray T. Nicholas, Farm Adviser, and Mrs. Helen Volk, Home Adviser, assisting.

This is an opportunity for all men and women who like to sing to get together and learn new music and have a good time.

Attend Round Table in Chicago
Principal T. R. Birkhead of the Antioch Township High school will attend a meeting of the Northern Illinois Superintendents' Roundtable in the Chicago Bar Association parlors, Chicago, tomorrow. Dr. Hamlin of Northwestern university will speak on personnel relationships.

Harry P. Lowery Dies Following Heart Attack, Funeral This Afternoon

Harry P. Lowery, 84, prominent and highly respected resident of Antioch, died at his home at 6:45 p. m. Monday following a heart attack.

The funeral service was held at 2 p. m. today at the Strang funeral home with the Rev. G. R. Tuttle officiating. Burial was at the Hillside cemetery.

Born in Indiana, Nov. 12, 1863, Mr. Lowery first established residence in Lake County in Lake Villa and Fox Lake before coming to Antioch in 1921. He engaged in the plumbing business here until his retirement several years ago.

At Lake Villa he operated the East Side hotel for many years and at Fox Lake he was owner of the old Columbia Yacht Club.

To many persons he was familiarly known as Pat. He enjoyed telling of his experiences in working on the Fall City river boats on the Ohio river out of Kentucky.

Although he had no children of his own he was a father to them and was a friend to many youngsters in Antioch.

He was one of the original stockholders of the First National Bank of Antioch.

Mr. Lowery was a member of the Millburn Masonic lodge and they will conduct their services at his funeral. Surviving are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mathilda Grant of Chicago and several nieces and nephews.

Kenosha Sheriff Seeks Passer of "Bum" Currency

In a special police broadcast yesterday, the sheriff of Kenosha county put out an alarm for a man about 40 years old, thought to have been passing counterfeit twenty dollar bills in Antioch and Kenosha county.

The sheriff's description of the counterfeit said that he was about 6 feet tall, and was wearing a soft tan hat, a tan sport coat and tan riding boots. He was reported to have been driving a 1947 Chevrolet convertible coupe.

The broadcast warned all merchants and places of business to be on the look out for this man.

Antioch-Newport Boards to Meet in Discussing Transportation Plans

A special meeting of the Antioch Township High school board of education with the Newport Township board of education will be held here Monday evening in an effort to ascertain whether bus accommodations can be provided for the 13 Newport students.

One of the new Antioch buses has arrived but it will not be placed in service until the second of the two is received. When the other is obtained the schedule will be put into effect. Promised for Feb. 19, delivery of the second bus will be delayed because the new chassis is a 1948 product of Chevrolet and is not long enough for the bus body. Parts to provide for the extension have not as yet gone into production, Principal T. R. Birkhead was told.

"Our meeting with the Newport board is merely to see whether we can accommodate them in their transportation problem and does not mean that we are seeking any more of their students," said Mr. Birkhead.

Having no building, Newport township sends its students to Antioch, Warren and Benton township schools.

This afternoon the board of education and Principal Birkhead went to Chicago where they will attend a meeting of the Tri-County School Board association at the Morrison hotel during the late afternoon and evening.

The Seaway Again

The St. Lawrence Seaway proposal, which has been knocking about for many years, will be up in Congress again this session.

The New York Herald Tribune recently pointed to some practical weaknesses in the scheme, and then said: "The cost of government, the mounting pressures of inflation, the unsettled international scene, all are powerful arguments against any major capital expenditure that can be avoided or averted. If an undertaking of the magnitude of the seaway were to enter the competition for scarce goods and labor, the costs of the project would certainly increase. The national budget would be burdened by a substantial additional sum, and the whole effect would be inflationary."

That is the plain truth. In addition, there is the gravest kind of doubt as to the seaway's virtue as a medium of transportation. The railroads and the other carriers are doing the job with complete efficiency, and at the lowest practical cost. Ice and other weather factors would limit the seaway's usefulness to only a part of the year. Many think that the potential traffic has been vastly exaggerated, and that the project, after its enormous initial costs, would be a steady money loser. And, beyond argument, its locks would be vulnerable in the extreme to air assault in the event of war.

The seaway is largely supported by regional interests which would benefit from the expenditure. All the rest of us would have to chip in and help pay for it. It would be damaging to our basic means of transportation on which the whole nation depends. And, as the Herald-Tribune says, it is a prime example of the kind of public work which should be avoided now. These are weighty arguments that Congress must not overlook.

Red Tape Won't Help

There is a renewal of talk concerning rationing, allocating and otherwise artificially controlling the flow of oil to market. Demands for some such course as this may be made in perfect sincerity. But it is difficult to see just how political controls would better the situation in any way.

Oil has been tight in some areas, though basic needs have been met. Material shortages have made it impossible for the industry to develop new facilities as rapidly as is desirable. Abnormal cold in recent weeks has contributed to the gravity of the problem. And, most important of all, the demand for oil both here at home and in other nations seems insatiable, and has reached levels that no one could have fully anticipated.

These are facts—the kind of facts which are determining the oil industry's policies now, and causing it to take every possible step that will get more oil out of the ground, and more usable petroleum products into the hands of consumers. Rationing, price fixing, or any other control would not and could not increase oil output by a single barrel. Only increased output can alleviate the problem. We must have more oil—not more red tape.

Government controls, however well meant and well administered, inevitably act as a brake on initiative. By their very nature they must curtail freedom of action on the part of those controlled. The rules and regulations pile up—and production then goes down.

Under free enterprise, we will get more oil in the shortest possible time.

Past The Experimental Phase

The indications from Washington are that Congress will look coldly upon any compulsory medical insurance measure brought before it. There are two obvious reasons why this should be so. First, the cost would run from four to six billions or more a year, and would require another heavy tax on top of all other taxes. Secondly, there is no need for it, due to the remarkable progress made by the voluntary prepayment plans.

There are a great many of these plans in operation, and they vary in detail. But in principle they are all much the same. Their purpose is to make it possible for people to prepare for the expense of an illness by paying small sums at stated intervals—precisely, for example, as one insures against the possibility of fire. The cost is usually only a few dollars a month for an entire family.

Further, the scope of the service has been constantly broadened. The plans had their problems—the usual growing pains that accompany any venture into uncharted waters. There have been financial and administrative difficulties. But these have been solved for the most part with admirable efficiency, and pre-paid medical care has definitely passed from the experimental to the firmly established phase.

The work is not done. The goal is to make the service available to every American who desires it. Those who are in closest touch with the plans are convinced that the goal will be reached within a reasonable time. The American people are again proving their ability to solve a real problem voluntarily—and without governmental decree.

Everyone knows where this one's going

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

No, it hasn't always been easy, here of late, to be absolutely sure just which way automobile design was heading.

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power—and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh through the longest day.

You find quiet here — quiet that encourages conversation — quiet from Sound-Sorber top lining that invites conversation in normal tones.

And if it's a Dynaflo Roadmaster you're handling, here you can sample driving ease that is near magic in its simplicity.

You set a lever, press the gas treadle — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest — swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

So it's pretty plain where this one's heading — it's going even higher in the regard of the motor-ing public.

Why not see your Buick dealer now and get your order in?

BUICK'S the one and only

WITH ALL THESE FEATURES

- * DYNAFLO DRIVE * TAPER-THRU STYLING (Optional, Roadmaster series)
- * VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE * SAFETY-RIDE RIMS
- * HI-POISED FIREBALL POWER
- * QUADRUFLUX COIL SPRINGING
- * FLEX-FIT OIL RINGS
- * ROAD-RITE BALANCE * RIGID TORQUE-TUBE
- * SOUND-SORBER TOP LINING (Street and Roadmaster)
- * DUOMATIC SPARK ADVANCE
- * TEN SMART MODELS * BODY BY FISHER

No gears ever shift in DYNAFLO DRIVE

In Buick's new Dynaflo Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear-changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models.

HOW TO SAVE HALF THE WINTER FUEL BILL TOLD BY UNIVERSITY

Rising coal and fuel oil prices give added point information released by the Small Homes Council at the University of Illinois telling about home insulation, which can save as much as one-half the winter fuel bill—one shovel of coal from every two.

Fifty per cent is the saving estimate for a typical two-story frame house with wood or shingle siding to which tight storm windows and doors, four inches of insulation between ceiling joist and three and five-eighths inches between wall studding is applied.

The facts about insulation and fuel saving, many resulting from years of careful research at the University, are presented in a free eight page non-technical circular. The high spot in it is a table showing reductions in a fuel bill possible in eight typical types of construction for one-story and two-story homes.

Benefits of insulation, the circular says, include greater comfort by making walls and window surfaces warmer, reducing drafts, and making heat more uniform; cooler houses in summer; and money saved by reducing fuel needs and requiring a smaller heating plant or less load on existing equipment. Also walls and ceilings are cleaner because dust and dirt do not gather on warm surfaces as they do on cold.

Good insulation will not attract insects and mice and will not form fire hazard, will not absorb moisture and get soggy and will not deteriorate or settle, the circular explains.

WILLIAMS DEPARTMENT STORE

LAKE VILLA

"Towers of Strength" is the topic announced by Rev. Dixon for the sermon at the Community church at 11 a. m. next Sunday. You are invited.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at the village hall on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 18, for the regular meeting. There will be sewing to do, and each lady is being asked to contribute and get ready something for the sale next summer. The group plans an all day meeting at the church as soon as the work there is completed. There will be a demonstration of plastics at the meeting Feb. 18. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Dan Boyer and daughter, Mrs. Janisch, went to Elmhurst last Saturday when the 90th birthday of Mrs. Boyer's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Griffith, was celebrated at a party for relatives and friends at the home of her grandson and wife there. Many friends from here sent cards to Mrs. Griffith.

Mrs. Wilbur Madsen is a surgical patient at St. Therese hospital and Carol Ann is with her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Madsen, while her mother is in the hospital.

Mrs. S. A. Hole, the former Lela Glynn, a former teacher here, and now living in Shelby, Montana, came recently to attend funeral services for her uncle, Robert Kent, at Wauconda, and stayed to visit relatives and friends. She has been a guest at the Paul Avery, Sr., home during the past week and Mrs. Avery entertained a few ladies in her honor at a small party at her home on Wednesday afternoon this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hamlin spent Sunday in Chicago with Mrs. Hamlin's sister and family.

Cedar Lake Camp met at the hall on Tuesday this week for initiation, a shower for Mrs. Edna Botts and a demonstration of plastics followed refreshments served by Marie Hamlin and Ethel Wood.

The Cosmopolitans met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Midgley on Sunday evening last week, Feb. 1. The meeting was held early as Dr. Midgley and his family left Monday for a two weeks vacation in Florida. There were 24 Cosmos and 2 stinkers present, and Dr. Midgley led a discussion on the subject "Why have good grades at school?" Many took part in the discussion and much thought was given to the subject. Plans are being made for the "Smorgasbord" dinner (birthday) to be held March 14, and each member will have a share in preparing the dinner. Many pictures were turned in for the contest of the month and the winner will receive the $5.00 award offered by Dr. Midgley. A new contest is open to the Cosmopolitans. Don Summer's pharmacy will give a five dollar prize each month for one year to the winner of the month. The best criticism written on the book "Peace of Mind" by Joshua Lath Liebman will win the award for the month of March, and there must be at least ten contestants for any contest.

The Lake Villa Community Men's club met at the school gym on Tuesday evening for its regular meeting and program of pictures and music by Mrs. Timmersman. The W. S. C. S. served a baked ham dinner assisted by the girls of the Halcyon club. The Men's club is planning an evening of entertainment soon, so watch for details.

Plan to attend the P. T. A. public dance and card party at the school house on Saturday evening. Good orchestra, prizes, games of cards and refreshments will be served.

Andy McGlashan, of Elmhurst, visited his parents on Oak Knoll Drive last Saturday.

Miss Sue Weber, a student at Kemper Hall, Kenosha, one of her classmates, Miss Betsy Herald, also Harold Hettick, a student of U. of Wis., at Madison, spent Saturday and Sunday at the Weber home. On Saturday evening, the three young people accompanied by Don Irving, of Mill burn, went to the Chicago Stadium to see the basketball game.

The Lake Villa P. T. A. will hold its next regular meeting at the school gym on Monday evening, Feb. 16.

SHORT STORY

Ten Minutes Late

By
AAGE V. HOVMAND

THE evening was dark when at 11 o'clock Head Signalman Petersen arrived at the signal box for duty.

"Evening, Hansen! Any news?" Petersen took off his cap and coat. "They say Sivertsen's out."

So this was it! Sivertsen had been his mate but Petersen had had to report him. Sivertsen had been given a year in jail. He had threatened to get revenge.

"Nothing else to report, Hansen?" "Eight cars from the brick works."

There was no room in the freight siding. They're on line No. 2 waiting to be picked up by the early morning freight. That means no through trains on line No. 2.

Hansen had gone. Petersen was alone. Keep calm, he told himself. He lit his pipe and began to read the paper. The night express was due to pass at 11:27; at about 11:20 it would be signalled through from the junction.

He raised his head to glance at the clock and stared sideways into the muzzle of a revolver. He felt his scalp shrink.

Behind him came Sivertsen's ugly voice. "Put your hands behind you." Petersen could feel his hands being tied to the back of the chair.

Suddenly the phone rang. Sivertsen lifted the receiver. "Right... all clear!" he said. The word was that the night express was passing the junction.

"I see you still have the bad habit of parking cars on line No. 2," grinned Sivertsen. He switched the main line over to line No. 2 and lowered the signals.

PETERSEN shouted in terror. Sivertsen said: "What'll happen when the fast express hits those cars? And what'll happen to the man responsible? Perhaps you'll try to convince the prosecution that you're not guilty? That I was there with a knife and cut you loose and ran off with the rope the moment it happens?"

Sivertsen lit a cigarette. "I'm going down to see if the cars are properly braked. Then it'll work better."

Petersen was deathly pale. He was speechless. "What are you glaring at?" sneered Sivertsen. "Want a smoke to steady your nerves a bit, is that it?" He thrust a cigarette into Petersen's mouth. "Lit it and was gone."

Petersen puffed automatically at the cigarette. Shout for help! Useless, there was no one near.

Four feet away from him was the signal lever. Move it and the express would be saved. But he could not move his hands. He knew that 200 yards away two green lights were signalling all clear. And 500 yards further on was another signal indicating there was no danger.

11:34! Sivertsen had received the junction's news of the express at 11:30. It would be here at 11:37.

Petersen could feel his hands being tied to the chair.

Petersen tried to bend forward. The rope tightened around his wrists. Now with his cigarette he could nearly reach the rope across his knees. The cigarette was half finished. He puffed vigorously and the glow increased. He pressed it against the rope with desperate energy, drawing deeply. He heard the faint crackling sounds as the threads of the rope broke. But he heard another sound too, farther away, the whistle of the express.

With all his might he stretched his knees and the rope broke. He could stand upright and in feverish haste he freed his hands. A glance out of the window showed him the lights of the approaching train.

Dragging the chair with him he threw himself on the signal lever and changed it to red. But the engine was already passing under it and the engine driver noticed nothing.

Like lightning he grabbed another lever and changed the points to connect up the main line.

Five seconds later the express passed safely by. A streak of light from its windows marked its course through the night.

Petersen looked at the clock. 11:37! Ten minutes late! Then he collapsed on the chair.

SHORT STORY

Blind Date

By
FERN AUBLE

"Rod, dear," Mary Trent paused at the foot of the stairs as the inevitable bang of the front door announced the unmistakable arrival of her 17-year-old son.

She turned and came toward him, a surge of pride welling up as it invariably did when she looked at her tall son. The tight, black cap of curls with which he was everlastingly waging battle, was rumpled with the fingers of the brisk wind and his black eyes danced with mischief as he slid to a stop before his mother.

"Hi-ya, Toots!" He grinned engagingly and threw an arm around her shoulders, giving her a quick kiss.

"Oh, Rod," she said, laughing in spite of herself, "you're impossible."

He struck a pose and sighed heavily, "Tis just me effervescent spirits, ma'am."

Rod followed his mother into the living room, where he sprawled down into a chair, his long legs stretched out before him.

3-Minute Fiction

She looked at him for a moment speculatively, wondering just how to broach the subject uppermost in her mind right now.

She plunged in. "Rod, dear, your father wants you to ask Mr. Billings' daughter to the Festival Dance."

Rod looked at her unbelievably and then bolted upright, indignation in every line of his lanky frame.

"What!" he exploded, "That drip!"

"You haven't asked anyone else yet, have you?" his mother asked.

"N-not exactly, but I thought I'd drag Elly. Do I have to, Mom?"

"No, son, you don't have to, but it would be a very friendly gesture. After all, the Billings are fairly new here and Anna Marie probably hasn't made many new friends."

"That I can believe," he muttered darkly, a mental vision of the daughter of his father's boss in his mind's eye.

He turned to his mother now, despair darkening his face. "Did Dad tell Mr. Billings that I'd take her?"

"I'm afraid he did, Rod. I'm sorry, son, but after all, you haven't asked anyone else and your father would be pleased."

"Nuts!" He shoved his hands deep in his pockets and kicked at the rug disconsolately. "Oh, all right, she's a creep, but tell Dad I'll give my all for the family."

THE next three weeks sped by at an alarming rate. Rod, having called Anna Marie under pressure, reflected gloomily, as he dressed for the dance.

A half hour later, he was ringing the Billings' doorbell. The door opened and a sweet-faced woman was smiling at him.

"Oh, you must be Rod," she said, opening the door wide. "Come in, won't you? Anna Marie will be down in just a minute."

"Tis just me effervescent spirits, ma'am."

Rod stepped inside and stood nervously waiting for Anna Marie to come down. He looked up quickly as a faint sound reached him. He literally stopped breathing as he beheld the vision of loveliness descending the steps.

Her skin was as smooth and creamy white as the petals of a newly-opened magnolia. Her hair, caught up in a soft cluster of curls, was like a sheaf of sunbeams caught and held by the gardenias he had sent her, under pressure from his mother. Her blue eyes were like cornflowers laughing at the dazed look on his face.

"Jeepers! a dream-buss, no less!" Rod breathed. And then, "Ready for the ratrace, beautiful?"

The black lashes flew up and a smile curved the lovely, softly pink mouth.

"Natch," was the retort and, to herself, Anna Marie added, "Glam-orpuss."

HEALTH HINTS

for LIVESTOCK
PREPARED BY
AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTHBLOOD CELL DISEASE
KILLS MANY CATTLE

Some twenty years ago a Kansas veterinarian identified a blood disease of cattle, previously unknown in the United States. The disease "anaplasmosis" or "pasture sickness" is in many ways like human malaria, for it is caused by a tiny parasite which attacks the red blood cells. Today, this disease has reached serious proportions—is now present in at least 23 states and has also been identified in sheep.

Anaplasmosis is spread from the blood of one animal to another in a variety of ways. It may be transmitted by mosquitoes, biting flies, and ticks. Outbreaks have also been traced to improperly sterilized dehorning shears, castrating knives, and contaminated hypodermic needles. Any object which contacts blood of an affected animal, then punctures the skin of a healthy animal, may transmit the disease.

Symptoms include a quick drop in weight and general condition and sometimes jaundice. The eyeballs, lining of the mouth, and skin of the udders may have a yellow color. On examination after death, all tissues are abnormally yellow and the gall bladder greatly enlarged.

Veterinarians are well acquainted with the areas where anaplasmosis is known to occur with frequency. Hence any sickness of this nature noticed in newly arrived animals or in home herds on pasture should be investigated immediately.

There is no vaccine or serum as yet developed to prevent anaplasmosis, hence it is important to avoid introduction of the disease into new territories. Owners should also remember that recovered animals act as carriers for a long time. Ridding animals of ticks, protection from flies, and extreme care in using vaccinating and dehorning equipment are essential in prevention.

Indians Ate Acorns

Some of the American Indian tribes considered acorns a staple item in their diet. The acorns were ground in a mortar, soaked in water or put in baskets, set in running water, or boiled in water for two hours to remove the astringent tannin. It is this tannin in the acorns that makes them undesirable as cattle food. The kernels were pounded and the resulting flour was used like cornmeal. Hundreds of thousands of bushels of acorns fall from the acorn trees of the country each season. Some are eaten by squirrels and hogs, but most of them go to waste.

Size of Train Crew

While the number varies, depending on the length of run and the character of the train, from 30 to 50 persons—such as conductors, engineers and other members of the crew and pullman employees—are required in the operation of a passenger train between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

Mishaps Most Costly

New York state workmen's compensation board survey showed that accidents in the construction industry are more severe and costly than in any other industry. The average cost of compensation to disabled construction workers was twice the amount of payments to other disabled workers. Falls account for the most accidents.

Largemouth Black Bass

The general color of the largemouth black bass is dark green above, sides and below greenish silver, three oblique dark stripes across the cheek, belly is white. The head is large and the mouth very wide, the corner of which extends beyond the eye. The largemouth bass will spawn on a mucky, bottom or construct its nest in vegetation or stumps.

Origin of Percheron

After the battle of Tours, in which Charles Martel defeated the Saracens in 732, many Saracen horses were taken as spoils of war. On the pastures of northern France, particularly in the old district of La Perche, these fine animals were crossed with the mares of Brittany. Hence the origin of the Percheron.

Keep Flies Neat

Trout flies should not be carried in a box which cramps and crushes them. In the case of dry flies shun those flat little boxes which have spring racks for holding the lures in place. Use a deep fly box that will not bend the hackles of the flies, and don't try to overcrowd the compartments. Also keep used flies from messing up a fresh one by keeping in separate compartments.

Ancient Atomic Theory

Democritus, Greek philosopher, in 400 B. C. propounded the theory of atomic structure of matter, saying that atoms are in perpetual motion and are indivisible.

The Constitution State

Connecticut has for its motto, "He Who Transplanted Continues to Sustain." The mountain laurel is the state flower and the robin the state bird.

RICHES IN LAKE BEDS

A hunter, wading into a shallow lake in North Dakota to retrieve a fallen duck, discovered sodium sulphate. A FERA survey disclosed vast quantities of the mineral that is used for cattle, in paper-making and medicine. Bringing $20 a ton now, it promises substantial profits to add wealth to the Nation and surety for Victory Bonds.

Census of Insects

There are from 5 to 10 million species of insects, according to many authorities. So far more than 475,000 different species have been classified. Insects inflict an annual loss of 400 million dollars on United States livestock. Beetles, or four-wing insects, number 105,000 different species. Many new species of insects were found by the armed forces in the southwest Pacific.

Many Plywood Uses

Plywood, because it is real wood, has good insulating qualities. It is also an excellent base for linoleum. Floor-to-ceiling hall closets for linen can be made easily with plywood panels. Another use is for subflooring. Builders report a time saving of more than 50 per cent when big panels of plywood are laid for subflooring rather than other material.

Not All Are Evergreens

Such conifers as western larch, tamarack and southern cypress shed their leaves annually, so they are not evergreens.

Ancient People Ate Garlic

During the Egyptian captivity the Hebrews became so fond of garlic that the Book of Numbers reports they longed for this variety of onion in the wilderness when they had to subsist only on manna.

1. Discard your old directory. Turn it in for waste paper if it hasn't already been collected.
2. Check your memo list of frequently called numbers against the new directory to be sure they're right.
3. Look in the new directory for any number you're not sure of. That way, you'll avoid mistakes and wrong numbers.
4. Save time by finding the number in the directory instead of calling Information.
5. Use the "Classified" section (the yellow pages in most directories) when you want products, services or professional help.
